Reel Reviews By DON ALLEN."

A rather dull week, cinematically

"Perjury," with William Farnum in the title role, was unwound at the Capitol yesterday for the first time at popular prices; Mary Pickford brought "Little Lord Fauntleroy" to the Strand, and "The Shaik" stretched his stay at the Righto another week Rialto another week.

"Peter Ibbetson" still goes pros-perously on at the Criterion, "Ham-let" starts its second week at the Lexington Theatre, "Conflict" en-tered its last week at the Central and "Theodora" is still the big drawing card at the Astor.

PASSING IN REVIEW

Tommy Meighan, always a taverite, and "A Peince There Was," is a combination hard to tie in pictures. Everybination hard to tie in pictures. Everyone, that is, aimost everyone, knows the George M. Cohan stery, now unrecling at the Rivoit Theatre. The numble brained and facile penned George wrote the play for himself. When he appeared in the character of the young broker-millionaire who became interested in the beautiful young writer, those who saw the well saccusarined little play went away with a full realization of the sweetness of the story and felt better for having seen it. seen it.
It is the same with the film, only

Mildred Harris, grown to be a charming screen actross, aids the star materially in the role of the struggling and lovable writer, while "Peacher" Jackson could hardly be improved upon as the "I-Believe-In-Fairles" role of the slavey.

It was announced that when Meighan was flining "A Prince There Was" that some of the action stopped traffic on Fifth Avenue. This trafficated on Broadway last night in front of the R voil.

of the Rivoli, "A Prince There Was," coupled with Meighan, will make you glad you saw it, and force a wish that things would happen like that in real life. It really seems the good to be true.

At The Lyric.

"What Do Man Wani?" is the puzzling question patrons of the Lyric Theatre yesterday were asking the including the first time. The story is that of the Times Square house vesterday for the first time. The story is that of the young and pretty wife, who

A rather dull week, cinematically speaking, started yesterday. In the majority of cases films shown along Broadway were re-showings or hold overs.

The bright particular spots, as far as newness goes, are at the Lyric, where the question drama "What 190 men Want?" was given an auspicious start; and the Rivoll, where Thomas Meighan brings the screen version of George M. Cohan's "A Prince There Was."

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy-If You Know Dr. Edwards's Olive Tablets.

The secret of keeping young is to feel young - to do this you must watch your liver and bowels-there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes— eruptions—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you 90 per cent, of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.
